ADMITS CAPTURE OF PHILIPPINES IS EASY!

NEW HIGHWAY TO PASADENA SOON WILL BE OPEN

Fine Scenic Boulevard Will Prove of Big Benefit To This Section

An ordinance changing the name of Sycamore Canyon road to Chevy Chase drive was passed this morning by unanimous vote of the Glendale City Council. The ordinance will become effective thirty days from today.

Following passage of this ordinance, Bert Farrar, owner of the Chevy Chase estates, announced that within two weeks contract will be let by Los Angeles county for the paving of that portion of Chevy Chase drive lying in the county, and that by August 1 the boulevard will be open from Acadia avenue, Glendale, to Michigan boulevard, Flintridge, providing a new highway to Pasadena.

The Chevy Chase estates comprise 1600 acres northeast of Glendale, connecting this city with Flintridge. An extensive subdivision will be opened up within the next few days, Mr. Farrar stated, and Chevy Chase drive, formerly Sycamore Canyon road, will be the main artery to and from the estates, resulting in much desirable advertising for Glendale.

HERB EXTORTION CHARGES PROBED

Legislative Committee to Begin Public Hearings Next Monday

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26.—The committee appointed to investigate the Chinese herb bill extortion charges involving Assemblyman Eddie Smith of Oakland and others met today and arranged to begin formal hearings at the state capitol next Monday. The meeting will be public. The committee will present a resolution to the assembly asking for an appropriation of $1000 to defray the cost of subpoenaing witnesses from Oakland to testify as to the alleged bribe-seeking activities of former Assemblyman William Brackett.

The committee, it was stated, will make the chief object of its investigation to determine whether Assemblyman Smith was guilty of misconduct as a member of the Legislature, either in the introduction of his herb bill or in his activities in connection with it thereafter.

If evidence of law violation on the part of anyone else is developed by the investigation, it was said, it will be turned over to the prosecuting attorney.

The Chinese herb bill scandal brought a "near fight" between Assemblyman William B. Hornblower and Assemblyman Eddie Smith today. Hornblower accosted Smith in the lobby outside the assembly chamber and loudly denounced him for having told District Attorney Warren of Oakland yesterday that Hornblower had been retained as counsel by the Chinese Protective association to fight the herb bill.

Smith said he had "heard some one say" that Hornblower had been so employed.

"You're a liar," shouted Hornblower. "Nobody ever told you anything of the kind. You know it's not true and I want to give you warning now to keep my name out of this thing."

Escaped Convict From San Quentin Confesses

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Lying on a cot under police guard in the Memorial hospital today, the man who suffered a broken ankle when he jumped from the 20th Century Limited yesterday in this city confessed to Captain Boyle of the New York Central police force that he is Harry Palmer, California robber, who escaped from San Quentin prison in 1922.

Since the call for the "Evans For Congress Club" meeting was published in The Glendale Evening News a number of other citizens have asked that they be included in the call, and so the revised list is published again.

The Evans for Congress club will be organized at a meeting to be held at the Glendale City Hall tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. All interested in seeing to it that Glendale takes advantage of the opportunity to have a Republican candidate for Congress are invited to attend. The call for the meeting follows:

Evans, coupled with his unusual ability, his unswerving loyalty to the Republican party and his splendid services rendered thereto have caused his many friends, not only in Glendale, but throughout the district to insist that he become a candidate for Congress from the ninth congressional district. Believing that Mr. Evans will yield to the importunities of his many friends, a meeting will be held in the city hall, Glendale, Friday, February 27, at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of organizing an EVANS FOR CONGRESS CLUB to which the people of Glendale and its environs are cordially invited:

Long Beach Newspaper Sees Other Congressional Timber Throughout Ninth District

The Press-Telegram of Long Beach re-publishes the editorial from The Glendale Evening News in which it was proposed that W. E. Evans of this city be the Republican nominee for Congress in the ninth district. That district includes the city of Long Beach.

The Press-Telegram gives an eight-column head on its first page to the congressional situation. The Long Beach newspaper declares that "Mr. Evans has some good friends in Long Beach, who remember gratefully his cooperation in the past with Long Beach candidates." However, the newspaper further declares that Long Beach has plenty of congressional timber—and then goes on to present names.

All of which would seem to indicate that it is up to Glendale and, in fact, the San Fernando valley, to immediately perfect a strong organization in behalf of W. E. Evans, for Glendale believes that it should be accorded the honor of naming the next congressman.

In discussing possible candidates other than Mr. Evans, the Long Beach newspaper says: "Among the possibilities mentioned is that the friends of Roland G. Swaffield, Long Beach attorney and for years a local leader in the Republican party, may urge him as Representative Lineberger's successor. James F. Collins, Long Beach engineer, is another whose name is heard in this connection. Speaker Frank F. Merriam, a Long Beach resident, is likewise spoken of as a congressional possibility."

"But the other cities of the ninth district are likely to be as productive of candidates as Long Beach. Pomona has Joseph Alford and L. L. Lostutter, both of them G. O. P. stalwarts with years of party loyalty and service to their credit. Montaville Powers, who has sought congressional honors several times, and George E. Waldo, both from Pasadena. Former Assemblyman John Robert White is a Glendale man. All of these are entitled to consideration at the hands of the ninth district Republicans, say the observers of political events. Each of them accepted the decisions reached by the district conferences which nominated Representative Lineberger and the late Charles F. Van de Water, who was killed in an automobile accident after his election to Congress. Both of these Long Beach candidates had the hearty backing of the Republican leaders throughout the ninth district, it is declared.

"As years of party inharmony and defeat have been followed by years of Republican harmony and Republican success in the ninth district since the inauguration of the pre-primary conference, it is expected by Long Beach workers in the G. O. P. organization that a conference will be held to reach an agreement as to the right man to take up the district leadership when Representative Lineberger lays it down to enter the senatorial fight."

PRIVATE LIFE OF CHAPLIN RULED OUT

Alleged Imitator's Counsel Overruled in Attempt To Show 'Past'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—With Charlie Chaplin, smiling, flushed and fidgety, on the witness stand, an attempt by counsel for Charles Amador, Chaplin's alleged imitator, to bring Chaplin's private life into the case now being tried in Judge John L. Huddner's court, failed today.

Ben Goldman, attorney for Amador, whom Chaplin seeks to enjoin from using the Chaplin characterizations, pointed a forefinger at the astonished comedian and asked:

"Isn't it true that escapades in the private life of a screen star lessen the good-will of the public toward that person?"

Objections by attorneys saved the comedian from replying to the question.

Almost immediately afterwards, Attorney Goldman was stopped by the court when he started to read an article from a Hollywood newspaper in an attempt to show that Chaplin's popularity was lessened. Asked by reporters as to the context of the article, Isidor Morris, another of Amador's attorneys, stated that it related to the asserted indignation of Southern California club women in respect to Chaplin's private life.

Old Case Hinted

Attorney Goldman was again overruled when he attempted to ask Chaplin if a "similar character infringement case" had not been decided against him in the German courts.

At one point Attorney Milliken jumped to his feet and said: "All this has no bearing on the case. The article in the film publication is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial testimony—and false. All this is merely an attempt on the part of defendant's counsel to harass Mr. Chaplin."

NAVY BOARD'S CHIEF SAYS PROTECTION LACKING

Denies Airplanes of Enemy Could Fly From Home Base To Attack U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The Philippines are "very vulnerable and could be taken by an enemy," Rear-Admiral Hilary P. Jones, chief of the navy general board, today told the House aircraft committee.

"Of course, we all realize that the Philippines could be taken by an enemy before America could get a fleet there," frankly admitted Jones.

The committee previously had been told by Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, that the Philippines, Hawaii and other American-Pacific possessions, "could be captured by Japan in two weeks."

Rear-Admiral Jones reviewed the board's recent report on the relative value of battleships and aircraft in which it was held that the battleship was the dominant sea power.

Denies Air Attack

"This is the mature judgment of the navy after three months of intensive study," said Jones.

Jones repeated that "no airplanes of a potential enemy of the United States could fly from their home bases to attack this country."

"The distance between the United States and foreign countries is too great," declared Jones.

The American navy in number and tonnage of capital ships, is fully up to the 5-5-3 ratio of the Washington conference, Jones declared.

"But we are woefully weak in airplane carriers, the only other craft limited by the treaty," he said.

"Do you think a 2,000-pound bomb dropped from the air would destroy a battleship?" asked Representative Prall, Democrat of New York.

Gives Expert Opinion

"If it were not an armor-piercing shell, I think its effect would be local," replied Jones. "I do not think it would have serious effect on the motive power, the turret or the personnel in enclosed places."

If the bombs were dropped alongside, within ten feet of the ship, "the effect probably would be very serious," Jones said.

"Were air bombs dropped during the recent tests on the battleship 'Washington'?" inquired Prall.

"Yes," answered Jones, "two non-explosive, 1400-pound, armor-piercing bombs. Only one hit the deck and did not go through."

NOMINATION EDITOR SWAMPED BY VOTES

Residents of Glendale Express Their Choice In Naming Candidates for Councilmanic Positions

Have you sent in your vote for your favorite councilmanic candidate, men and women who are being selected by residents of this city through The Glendale Evening News, as possible candidates for the five positions of councilmen, to be voted upon April 14?

The nomination editor reports he is being swamped by votes, but the more the merrier, he declares, for each vote is an expression, and expressions are what count when it comes to finding the persons best fitted to hold public office. Municipal elections, under the state laws, should be strictly non-partisan, and party standings are not recognized in the vote carried daily in The Glendale Evening News.

Scores of persons have been suggested by the residents of this city as possible candidates. Eighteen of the persons named have received fifty or more votes, and their pictures and biographies have appeared in this paper. Others have received over twenty-five and are rapidly approaching the fifty mark.

Blank Appears Daily

Each day there appears in this newspaper a blank form on which Glendale residents are invited to write the names of citizens who they believe are fitted for service on the City Council. Five candidates are to be elected next April. When any person nominated receives fifty or more nominations, his or her picture and a brief biography will be published in The Glendale Evening News.

Five nominations is the limit any one person is permitted to make. Names of all persons nominated will be published when twenty-five or more votes have been received by any candidate. The nomination blank appears on page two of today's Glendale

VANISHING RECORDS

The need for an inexpensive but efficient method of preserving the files of modern newspapers is a question that is causing librarians, antiquarians and historians considerable concern. Future writers will wish to consult the newspapers of today for descriptions of scenes and events. For instance, consider the historical value of newspaper accounts of that impressive scene where President Wilson read his war message to Congress. A Vassar professor in a treatise on "The Newspaper and the Historian" says: "There are everywhere evidences of an increasing appreciation of the important place the newspaper occupies in the equipment of the historian."

The problem is this: No modern newspaper can afford to use rag paper and the wood-pulp stock that is used today disintegrates in a very short time. It is said that the files of the New York Times and the New York Tribune containing the account of the battle of Gettysburg, printed on rag stock, are in better condition than the numbers that chronicle the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

The New York public library has evolved a method of preserving newspapers that is more or less satisfactory, but rather expensive. Six New York newspapers have each undertaken to defray the expense of preserving copies of their own papers. Every newspaper page is coated with a sheet of thin Japanese tissue paper at a cost of eight cents a page.

Copies of the Congressional Record and certain reference books, as well as newspapers, are threatened with disintegration. Valuable information and records can be saved only at the great expense of reprinting.

One librarian makes the suggestion that a few copies of every newspaper for its own files and for libraries be printed on rag stock. This would entail great expense and trouble where newspapers are printed from a roll of paper.

FAIR DEAL FOR AVIATION

Naval experts testifying in the controversy stirred up by General Mitchell are inclined to be illogical in their efforts to make out a case against aviation. According to testimony by those who object to the proposal to establish a Department of Aeronautics it would be possible for a fleet of airplanes to meet an invading fleet of battleships 400 miles off our coast, or even a farther distance away, and stop it.

If it is the case that a surface fleet of ships could be stopped by airplanes a long distance off shore, and if, as is a fact, our possible adversaries have such fleets of airships and we have not, any of them could render futile any attack with battleships on our part, while we would not be able to prevent them from attacking us with both battleships and airplanes since, as this expert says, our fleet could be rendered useless by the enemy planes.

The army and navy departments exist solely to provide defense for the country against the encroachments of enemies. It would seem to those who have followed the discussion precipitated by General Mitchell that these departments have been negligent in appreciating the possibilities of aeronautics. This should be sufficient argument for taking the matter out of their hands. There is no reason why aviation should not be made co-ordinate with the army and navy.

A battleship costs millions of dollars and in a few years it is obsolete, and, in any case, it is a liability in peace-time. An enormous fleet of airplanes could be built for the cost of one battleship, they could be used in commercial pursuits and be available for defense in case of attack.

GUBERNATORIAL ASPIRANTS

"Is the Los Angeles mayoralty candidacy of Judge Bledsoe a move on the part of the south to place a gubernatorial candidate in the field next year?" asks the San Francisco Chronicle. It is almost certain that Governor Richardson will be a candidate to succeed himself, and Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodell is spoken of as an aspirant for the same office. In view of this the San Bernardino Sun says it seems as if the next governor of California must come from San Bernardino county since all three of these men hail from there. The Sun continues: "However, even these three possibilities do not exhaust the San Bernardino supply, for there is Controller R. L. Riley to be taken into account, and let nobody discount his strength should he decide on such a course. The Sacramento information is to the effect that Mr. Riley will not be a candidate if Governor Richardson is."

TWO-PARTY SYSTEM LOGICAL

The third party is no more. It went on the rocks permanently at the Chicago meeting, which was attended by delegates from all parts of the country. Differences of opinion prevented complete reconciliation and reorganization. Tradition holds the two old parties together in the face of disagreements, but a common purpose or the personality of a leader are the only things that can give coherence to a new party. Senator La Follette alone held the party together for the campaign and he—or some other strong personality—or a great issue may unite the radicals again, but in this country men instinctively divide themselves into two parties. With a third party the groups tend to divide still further, and there is great danger in a multi-party government, as witness some of the Chambers and Parliaments of Europe. Blocs and minorities weaken the vitality and check the progress of governments.

FAITH IN BUSINESS

One of the greatest forces in the world today is an unseen force—faith. It was amply demonstrated that the American business man is not entirely devoid of this quality when it was learned that he spent more than a billion dollars for advertising last year. Only implicit faith in the power of advertising to make business grow, fortified by previous experience, could warrant the expenditure of such a sum.

Some people contend that all business is gambling, and it is true that the element of chance is present in the establishment of any business from the peanut stand on the corner to the largest corporation in the state. But there is a well-defined line between a blind gamble and faith backed up by business judgment.

The American business man casts his bread upon the waters in his advertising budget, knowing it will return to him many fold.

Time Savers

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Almost all modern inventions are eventually for the purpose of saving time.

Mr. B. C. Forbes in his column gives us an interesting list of these time savers.

It includes electricity, the cinema, the airplanes, the mechanical harvester and the like.

It will be found that the cotton gin, power loom, shoe-making machinery, the sewing machine, washing machine, steam drill, electric iron, dish washing machine, mimeograph, telephone, telegraph and subway are fundamentally valuable because they save time.

Time savers release the activity of the race from being occupied with menial tasks to be devoted to better things.

It has been often said that every one of these inventions turned a certain number of men out of work. They do this, but they re-employ the men at better jobs and at better wages.

The locomotive threw an infinite number of hostlers and horse tenders out of their employment, but re-employed them as brakemen, conductors and the like.

These men have an opportunity of living better lives, have more leisure and more comforts.

"Business," says Mr. Forbes, "may have its faults; it does have its faults. But let us in all fairness never forget that business is largely responsible for enriching our lives by saving us time and providing us with the abundance of necessities, comforts and luxuries which we Americans enjoy in greater measure than any people on the face of the earth."

It used to take a great deal of time to communicate by messenger, which is now all saved by the use of the telephone and telegraph.

It is now taking much time to reach the Pacific coast from the Atlantic by train, which will soon be cut short by the use of the airplane.

The United States is a great mixer of peoples. And the mixture is made more complete by the ease and rapidity of travel and by the quick communication of thought.

There is much said about the modern man's not having as much leisure as the man of former time. As a matter of fact he has more leisure. Only he gets more done before he rests.

One reason why he is so efficient is because of his ingenuity in invention and in training the powers of nature to do work that was formerly done by human power.

The time is coming, and it is not far distant, when all the menial work of the race will be done by the inanimate forces, and the power of all men will be released to devote itself to social progress.

Horoscope

Contrary planetary influences are strong today, according to astrology. While Neptune and Venus are in benefic aspect, Uranus is strongly adverse.

Under this rule women are supposed to be able to make a good impression on men; romance should flourish.

Again there is a promising aspect for theatrical ventures but foreign plays and foreign artists are to benefit.

Oil is again likely to cause interest among speculators who may arouse the enmity of the public.

This is held to be a rarely favorable day for starting on sea voyages and there is to be much European travel this year.

Neptune is in a place interpreted as most fortunate for the spread of the democratic spirit; the signs are not good for royalty and kings are to have many troubles.

Much banking difficulty is pre-arranged for Great Britain where certain trade conditions will be unsatisfactory.

Women may incline more than ever toward a vain desire to rule men by means of their charms, and again the seeds are sown that the law of opposites will work toward romance at a time when artistic and professional affairs should absorb attention.

Strange to say, the stars are contradictory regarding amusements and appear to forecast bad luck for theatres while they promise more interest in the drama than at any previous time in history.

Under the sway the contagion of thought may continue strongly manifested in fads and strange crazes for silly pastimes.

Thought is to be more potent and more scientifically directed this year than formerly, but the seers warn that the black art may be practiced as well as white magic.

Japan is warned that next August there will be a partial eclipse of the Moon which augurs some ill fortune or perhaps an epidemic.

ALADDIN
When I was a beggarly boy,
And lived in a cellar damp,
I had not a friend nor a toy,
But I had Aladdin's lamp;
When I could not sleep for the cold,
I had fire enough in my brain,
And builded with roofs of gold,
My beautiful castles in Spain!

Since then I have toiled day and night,
I have money and power good store,
But I'd give all my lamps of silver bright,
For the one that is mine no more.

Take, Fortune, whatever you choose—
You gave and may snatch again;
I have nothing 'twould pain me to lose,
For I own no more castles in Spain!

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

Many laws upon the statute books of the various states and of the nation, are asinine and unjust. Most of us agree on that score; but we differ on the question of whether such laws should be obeyed.

There is one sound argument, and one only, in favor of the strict enforcement of all laws. It amounts to this: Popular CLARK KINNARD disrespects for one statute leads to the disregard for others, and, in some cases, for the whole body of laws. When a body politic begins to lose its faith in the sanctity of the law, the foundation of society is in danger of weakening and causing the whole structure to topple.

Society is impossible unless those who are associated agree to observe certain rules of conduct towards one another.

Its stability depends upon the steadiness with which they abide by the agreement; and, so far as they waver, that mutual trust which is the bond of society is weakened or destroyed.

Wolves cannot hunt in packs except for the real, though unexpressed, understanding that they should not attack another during the chase.

Huxley observed that the most rudimentary organization is a pack of men living under the like tacit, or expressed understanding; and having made the very important advance upon wolf society that they agree to use the whole force of the whole body against individuals who violate it in favor of those who observe it.

It has been said many times that the quickest way to bring about the repeal of an unjust law is to enforce it strictly and impartially.

Who's Who

Court-martial for two of America's military leaders looms as a possibility as a result of the testimony of these men before the House committee investigating the aircraft situation. They are Rear Admiral William A. Moffett and Brigadier General William Mitchell. Moffett is chief of navy aeronautics. Mitchell is assistant chief of the army air service.

As chief of the United States navy bureau of aeronautics, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett is taking a leading part in the development of aviation, not only for military purposes, but from all angles. He is impressing government officials with the importance of aviation as affecting the nation's progress generally.

Rear Admiral Moffett was born in Charleston, S. C., October 31, 1869, and was graduated from Annapolis in 1890. The first real action he had was under Admiral Dewey on board the U. S. S. Charleston at the capture of Manila in 1898. He was in command of the U. S. S. Chester at Vera Cruz and at Tampico, Mexico, in 1914, when Admiral Mayo demanded salute for the United States flag. Mayo personally delivered the demand to General Saragossa of the Mexican forces. He commanded the Chester at the taking of Vera Cruz, April 21-24, 1914. He received the medal of honor for his service in that action.

For four years, beginning later in 1914, he was commandant of the Great Lakes naval training station. He also commanded the ninth, tenth and eleventh naval districts.

He received the distinguished service medal for meritorious service in the World War.

Uncle Sam's ambassador to Italy, Henry P. Fletcher, has not only had a long diplomatic career, but it seems one a bit more novel than usual.

He entered the diplomatic service in 1902, as second secretary of the American legation in Havana. Then he served on the embassy staffs in China and Portugal. He went back to China in 1907 and was charge d'affaires during two periods of upheaval. In 1909 he was made ambassador to Chile. He remained there until 1916, when he was sent to Mexico. In 1921, he was made under secretary of state, which office he held until appointed ambassador to Belgium.

The ambassador to Italy is a native of Green Castle, Pa. He was born there in 1873. He was educated under private tutors and studied law. He left the practice of law in 1895 to volunteer for service in Cuba and never returned to the law office. After the war with the Spaniards was over, he served in the Philippines. Then came his first job in the diplomatic service.

While he is a Republican, he has served under administrations of both parties.

While exports of the United Kingdom, the great shipping country of the world for centuries, were $4,132,000,000 last year, those of the United States totaled $456,000,000 more.

English Women Helped Physically By Freedom

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Bow-legs, knock-knees, hollow chests and round shoulders are almost unknown among English women of today, according to Dr. A. T. Schofield. Woman has gained freedom and has adopted hygienic dress and gone in for athletics, and her legs are straighter, her skin clearer, her eyes brighter, and she is in better health, the doctor says. Woman's mental progress is not, however, equal to her physical progress, he added.

Oldest Inmate Of Arkansas
Civil War Home Spurns
Planes and Cars

DAYTON, O., Feb. 26.—More than 108 years old, Robert Brown, native of Arkansas, enjoys the distinction of being the oldest inmate of the National Soldiers' Home here.

Brown believes in taking things as they come, but he has never accepted two of civilization's latest inventions—the automobile and the airplane. Although offered countless auto rides and invitations to get a birdseye view of Dayton and its environs from a flying plane, he consistently refuses, declaring that conveyances that were good enough for his boyhood and early manhood are good enough for him now.

On the occasion of his 108th birthday anniversary, William Bane, 104, called to congratulate his senior and wish him "many happy returns."

Brown is a Civil War veteran of the Union army.

Ancient Wooden Pipe Line Is Discovered

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—More than 120 years ago iron pipes were not used for water mains. Mains then were made of wooden logs.

A piece of this pipe—aqueduct they called it in 1799—was discovered when workmen were digging recently where the street is being leveled for the Delaware river bridge.

According to Philadelphia's history, the city fathers discussed in 1799 the construction of a water system. It was decided to pipe the water through the streets by means of an aqueduct.

City authorities ordered wooden logs to be hollowed out. After two years, 1801, a wooden pipe line was running on Chestnut street from Seventh to Front street. If one lived in that vicinity one could purchase small wooden pipes from the city and connect them with the aqueduct, thus getting a supply of water. And $5 a year for each house was the water tax.

These wooden pipes were simple in construction, according to J. K. Costello, secretary of the Delaware river bridge commission, who has this piece of pipe in his office. He said a good sized log was hollowed out so that it tapered. The narrow end was placed in the large hole of another log, and the two logs were banded together with iron.

VALLEY MEN TO MEET AT ATWATER FRIDAY

Improvement Association Will Be Host
To Chamber of Commerce Officials;
Ward Candidates Will Speak

Executive officers of Chambers of Commerce of San Fernando valley cities and a number of improvement associations will meet at the Atwater Baptist church tomorrow night with executive officers of the Atwater Improvement association.

Although "general discussion of topics of interest" has been announced as the purpose of the meeting, it is understood that candidates for the Los Angeles City Council from Ward No. 1 will form the main point of interest. Executive officers of the Atwater association have a candidate to propose, it is stated. He is a resident of Atwater Park at the present time, and is the logical man for the job, his supporters said. Representatives of San Fernando, Van Nuys, Owensmouth and other Chambers of Commerce in the valley will attend the meeting.

School Rooms Needed

A hot protest against what is termed unjust treatment at the hands of the Los Angeles school board has been filed with that body by the Atwater Improvement association, following action taken by executive officers at their regular meeting last night. In a written protest addressed to President O'Dell of the school board, the officers allege that, although the district supported the school bond issue of a year ago, no effort to relieve the congestion has been made to date.

It is pointed out in the protest that Atwater voted unanimously in favor of the bonds, and that the reward that was promised has never been forthcoming. The protest further demands immediate action to relieve the situation which now exists at the Atwater grammar school, where "800 students are crowded into quarters originally intended for less than half that number."

Plans To Form Club

Plans for forming a five-hundred card club in the Atwater district are being made by Mrs. Lon Gardner of 3460 Perilla avenue. Anyone wishing to join the club may do so by communicating with Mrs. Gardner at the above address or by telephoning her at Capitol 4825. It is the plan of Mrs. Gardner to play five-hundred at the meetings, and as many as four tables will probably be used.

Masons Will Elect

Charter members of Atwater Masonic lodge will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at 3218 Glendale boulevard to elect a new master and junior warden, to fill vacancies caused by the resignations of Ralph J. Reese and Paul E. Lipscomb. Mr. Reese, recently elected master of the new lodge, was forced to resign when business called him to Long Beach to live. Mr. Lipscomb will tender his resignation tonight, pleading press of other business.

Prayer Meeting Tomorrow

A special prayer service, in conjunction with the observance of mission prayer day throughout the northern Baptist conference, will be held by the Women's Missionary union of the Atwater Park Baptist church tomorrow afternoon. The meeting, under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Noble, president of the union, will commence at 2:30 o'clock.

Hold Old Paper Drive

Children at the Atwater Grammar school conducted an old newspaper drive for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher association fund today. Papers which were collected will be sold and the money used to aid in the work of the Parent-Teacher association, according to Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president, who supervised the drive. Any person having old papers to give should call Miss Rosalind Gates, principal at the Atwater school, Mrs. Bacon said.

Attends Club Meeting

Mrs. Lon Gardner of 3460 Perilla avenue, in the Atwater district, attended the meeting yesterday afternoon of the five-hundred card club, held in the home of Mrs. Anna Jackson, at Thirtieth and Hoover streets, Los Angeles. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, followed by an afternoon spent in playing five-hundred. Mrs. Letitia O'Grady won prize for high score, and Mrs. Curtis was awarded the consolation. The club will meet again March 11, with Mrs. Cora Johnson, who will entertain at the Catherin Inn on West Washington boulevard, Los Angeles. Members present were: Mesdames Cora Johnson, Lon Gardner, Letitia O'Grady, Cora Johnson, Goodwin, Nelson, Grace Miller, Kettle, Leppert, Curtis, and the hostess.

2-YEAR-OLD BABY CAUSE OF WRECK

Youngster's Milk Bottle Interferes With His Mother's Vision

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26.—One automobile was wrecked, another temporarily rendered inoperative and a pedestrian narrowly escaped injury on the main business street of Marysville, all because a baby seated on its mother's knees while the latter was driving the car raised its milk bottle to its mouth.

Mrs. E. Price was driving the machine with a year-old baby in her lap, when the infant raised the bottle and obscured the view, causing the mother to lose control of the machine, which careened into the auto of Mrs. James Madigan, which was parked by the curb. William Gee, a gardener, just escaped being pinned to the wall of a building when the Madigan car was propelled over the curb, wrecking front and rear wheels and the fender.

Mrs. Price was almost prostrated by the accident and has fore-sworn driving a machine in future with her child seated on her knee.

City Child Healthier Than Rural Youngster

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—City children are far healthier than country children, according to a nation-wide survey, declared A. W. Frye, supreme commander of the Maccabees, in an address here of a child welfare conference.

"Half of all the country children examined had teeth or jaw defects," said Mr. Frye. "Only one-third of the city children had similar defects. Two-fifths more country children than city children had bad tonsils and twice as many country children had adenoids. Three times as many country children had eye defects and most people will be astonished to learn that more than twice as many country children were suffering from malnutrition. Enlarged glands, ear and breathing troubles were twice as prevalent among children in the country."

Having installed 700 twenty-ton freight cars, the Great Western Railway of England is trying, by offering reduced car-lot rates, to arouse interest of shippers in the use of what is to them unusually large carriers.

Public Utilities Member Starts 'Riot' in Tuxedo

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 26.—Irving S. Cobb is believed to have solved the problem of what to do with used safety razor blades when he advocated dropping them into the Grand Canyon.

Now comes City Engineer Frank S. Krug, of Cincinnati, with a suggestion as to what to do with old tuxedos. Wearing a tuxedo coat, Krug appeared at a meeting of the Rapid Transit commission.

Business was suspended until he could explain. "I am not insane, gentlemen," he began. "I am only ingenious. I could not sell or give this coat away. Glancing at myself in a mirror the other day, I noticed that my office coat was positively in rags. The happy thought occurred to me that the old tuxedo would make an excellent substitute. And here I am."

Farmers Jack Up Cows As Snow Drifts High

BANGOR, Maine, Feb. 26.—"Snow's kinda drifty this winter," remarked a farmer from a rural district to a friend on the steps of the local postoffice.

"Yes, 'tis," replied farmer No. 2.

Said farmer No. 1: "Much snow out your way?"

"Quite a lot," replied No. 2.

"Lot drifted into the barn last night. Had to jack up the cows to milk 'em."

"Must be kinda drifty out your way," soliloquized No. 1, shaking his head.

Concrete Road Work Passes Known Record

The year just closed again witnessed the breaking of all previous concrete road construction records. The equivalent of 6071.3 miles of 18-foot concrete was laid by counties, states and federal aid. This mileage, added to the total already paved, makes available to the 17,000,000 motor vehicles and trucks now operating over our highways nearly 22,000 miles of permanent concrete highway.

The outstanding feature of the year was the completion of more than 1200 miles of concrete pavement by the state of Illinois. This exceeds its record of 1000 miles laid in 1923 and brings the total mileage within this one state to more than 4000 miles.

An interesting feature of last year's construction was the evident willingness of individual counties to assume the building of paved roadways through the issuance of highway bonds.

Skyline Road Spread With Dust Killer

Calcium chloride is being sprinkled on the most dusty portions of the Mulholland drive at the present time, according to the touring department of the National Automobile club. It will serve to keep the roadbed damp and hard and lay the dust which has troubled motorists for the last few Sundays. A thin sprinkling of oil is also being tried as a means to remedy the dust problem, but the calcium chloride method has met with the greatest success. The delay in surfacing the new scenic drive is due to the fact that the roadbed is too new and unsettled as yet to warrant the starting of paving operations.

Local Dealer Says Model Captures Preference Of Car Lovers

The Hupmobile line eight has captured the preference of fine car lovers everywhere, asserts H. V. White of 228 South Brand boulevard, Glendale manager for H. W. Swanson, Glendale and Hollywood distributor of Hupmobile fours and eights.

"This is really a great eight," he says. "It has unequalled lines, marvelous power, efficiency and economy, and is unexcelled in performance. We have the car in our showrooms here and are making unprecedented sales records. New owners are finding every day the never-before-known thrill of driving the superb Hupmobile eight."

"Nor can any mention of our success be made without stressing the downright dollar-for-dollar car value of the sturdy Hupmobile four, one of the safest and soundest investments in the American market today, richer in appearance, finer in comfort but still the same reliable Hupmobile product that for years has been a standard of comparison."

The Chassis is Patented

Essex is a totally different type. It gives results no other car ever gave.

Low price, without disappointment in looks or reliability.

Economy without sacrifice of performance.

Stability and highest roadability without unnecessary weight.

The riding ease of large, costly cars. The handling ease of a bicycle. Utter simplicity in design.

The lowest maintenance cost, we believe, of any car in the world.

Two of every three Essex buyers come to it from those who formerly owned cars bought chiefly for their low first price.

Just as the Coach body and Coach name have been extensively copied, even by costliest cars, so must future mechanical design seek to approximate the results Essex gives.

But the patents which make the Super-Six the most enduring, smoothest motor and give it all advantages, also prevent any from copying its chassis.

Surely you cannot be satisfied with less than Essex offers. Its cost is but little more than cars of the lowest price.

CHINESE TELL LAWMAKERS OF PLOT

Measure To Regulate Traffic In Herbal Remedies Stirs Lobbyists

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26.—Celestial omens are seen in flowers adorning the desks of the five assemblywomen and others favored by the sergeant-at-arms, who distributed the tokens of good-will sent here by the six Chinese companies of the bay cities. They would see the honorable defeat of a bill directed at their traffic in herbal remedies.

Assemblyman Edward J. Smith and Senator Edgar S. Hurley of Oakland are being questioned today about Smith's bill, which provides that herbalists submit secret formulas to the state board of health for approval, the object being to keep them from peddling harmful drugs, according to the author.

Several days ago the six companies tendered a dinner to the San Francisco legislative delegation, it was made known today, and, shortly thereafter, Dr. Fong Wan and Dr. Y. L. Chan of Oakland allege they were approached by a former member of the Legislature with an offer to kill the bill in committee for $10,000.

The herbalists believed such quotations iniquitous, and presented the whole subject to District Attorney Earl Warren of Alameda county, and today that official is reported at the capital, making further investigation.

William Brackett, former legislator, was named by the Chinese, according to Chief of Police James T. Drew of Oakland, as the alleged extortion agent. Senator Hurley doesn't deny having accompanied Brackett on a visit to one of the herbalists, but declares it a political plot. Smith disclaims knowing Brackett.

District Attorney Warren of Alameda county, and Police Chief Drew have turned over all evidence in the case to the Assembly committee. Assemblyman Sidney Graves, Los Angeles, chairman of the committee, announced that nothing further than adoption of policy would come from today's meeting.

Assemblyman Frank Coombs, Isaac Jones, George Cleveland and T. M. Wright are others named by Speaker Frank Merriam to investigate the alleged extortion attempt.

From another source Senator Hurley today was put on the defensive, his neighbor townsman, Senator Arthur H. Breed of Berkeley, stating the former's proposal for $50,000,000 highway bond issue is impractical, pointing out that the present gasoline tax revenues are needed for the maintenance and repair of the state's road system. Hurley yesterday submitted tabulations showing that the bond issue might be paid from surplus gasoline tax funds in years to come.

Side Show Opened
Senator Breed's formal statement set forth it would cost $50,000 to put such a bond issue before the people, and that amount would be saddled on the highway commission's funds if defeated.

Assemblyman Frank Coombs, nestor of the lower House, this afternoon opened a side show in the special governmental revenue and expenditures committee, of which he is chairman. State Controller Ray L. Riley, is due for a session on the carpet to tell how much revenue there is, from what sources it is derived, and then give his suggestions for raising more. Secretary M. D. Lack of the board of equalization will next be called, and the committee will seek the power of subpoena, corporation tax experts and others. The program calls for some constructive conclusions.

Demand One House
The California Farm Bureau federation legislative conference today instructed the agrarian bloc regarding their reappointment recommendation as follows:
Support any reappointment measure conserving one house of the legislature to rural territory;

Croup Relieved Without Dosing

Too much dosing is harmful to a child's delicate stomach. Often it lays the foundation for ill health in later life.

The next time a child seems croupy in the evening apply Vicks over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck so that the arising vapors may be freely inhaled. This usually prevents a night attack.

If croup comes on without warning an application of Vicks usually brings relief in 15 minutes.

Vicks can be applied freely and often, even on the youngest child with perfect safety.

U. S. Helpless In Air, Says Gen. Mitchell

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of army air service, and the center of the battleship-airplane controversy, today issued a statement again charging that the United States has no air service worthy of the name, and is practically helpless in the air.

"At the present time," General Mitchell said, "should a great national emergency arise, on account of our faulty system of national defense, we might well be forced to yield to one of the great air powers to maintain our very existence. Under the circumstances, our position might well be that of a vassal state of the poorer nations."

Hartranft's measure, taking gross earnings of publicly owned utilities the same as private corporations; regulating commission merchants' trade in agricultural consignments; and memorializing Congress for a further issuance of tax-free securities.

Budget Under Fire
A conference was announced today by H. Robert Egan, following last night's meeting of the Assembly ways and means committee, where the constitutionality of the budget bill was questioned. The governor's office, Attorney-General U. S. Webb and Controller Ray L. Riley, who arrived in Sacramento this morning, and the state board of control will be present in an endeavor to overcome the controller's objections to the wording of the general appropriation measure.

This same question was raised by the special Assembly committee on revenue and expenditures, which is continuing its investigation of state financing this afternoon by questioning Riley. Assemblyman Frank C. Weller, Glendale, asked M. D. Lack, secretary of the equalization board, for an estimate of the deficiency, should the inheritance tax law be repealed. Lack stated to the committee that such repeal would be unfortunate.

It was pointed out that wealthy people seeking to escape such tax by going to Florida had to transfer all their property interests to that state or invest in bonds not registered.

AUTO VEHICLE FEES SHOW MILLIONS

Statement Issued by State Gives $7,011,122.63 California Share

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26.—The Division of Motor Vehicles today made public a financial statement showing a total of $7,011,122.63 was collected from California motorists in motor vehicle fees during 1924. The bulk of this money has been apportioned to the highway commission and the various counties for road repair purposes.

All registrations for 1924 increased 20.5 per cent. The fees collected for the year showed a loss of $3,534,749.08 over 1923 due to the fact that the motor vehicle act of 1923 made substantial decreases in the fees charged for licensing vehicles by substituting the "flat fee" for the old horsepower ratings.

Fees Collected
Fees were collected from the following sources: Automobile licenses, $3,594,636.27; pneumatic truck licenses, $23,745.54; solid truck licenses, $1,156,631.17; motorcycle licenses, $42,498.55; trailer licenses, $180,229; auto dealers, $42,681.50; motorcycle dealers, $447; trailer dealers, $147; transfers, $404,135.60; miscellaneous $42,087.85.

These fees are subject to equal apportionment to the highway commission and counties after a 20 per cent deduction is made for expenses of the department. Non-apportionable fees amounting to $221,681 in chauffeurs' licenses and $42,192.15 in duplicate operators' licenses were also collected.

Total Apportionment
The total apportionment to the counties for the year amounted to $2,327,672.42 after deduction, amounting to $295,135.90 were made for the salaries of traffic officers. The highway commission received $3,079,658.85 as its share for the year.

Although the law gives the division permission to spend 20 per cent of its motor vehicle collections for expenses it actually spends only 8.7 per cent, thus turning back a saving approximating $760,000 for apportionment purposes.

Nearly one-half of the money apportioned to the counties, or $1,233,739.98, went to Los Angeles county. San Francisco was second with $239,903.62 and Alameda third with $208,061.46.

Central Civic Body Is Plan Of Republicans

Organization of a central civic committee, composed of representatives of social and civic bodies in Glendale, is planned at a meeting next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Wilson Intermediate school. Call for the meeting was issued today by H. V. Adams, chairman of the committee on municipal affairs of the Glendale Republican club. The proposed committee will be "a fact-finding group of such representative character as to be unbiased in its judgments of men and measures," Adams announced.

"It is perfectly natural for any man to see most clearly and appreciate most vividly the needs of that particular section of the city in which his property interests are located," said Adams. "The greatest good to Glendale as a whole should come from conferences held by an organization such as this proposed central civic committee."

CLOSING LAW FOR SUNDAY OPPOSED

W. F. Martin Attacks Annual Appearance of Measure In Legislature

Editor, The Evening News:—As usual, a Sunday-closing bill has made its appearance in the California Legislature. Also, as usual, it picks on a half-dozen or so places of business and makes it a crime for such places to keep open on Sunday. The list of exemptions are legion. In section 1 of the proposed law it is stated: "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to keep open within this state any store, workshop, or other place of business which is not necessarily required to be kept open on Sunday, including the following: Any wearing apparel, jewelry or hardware store, laundry, barber shop or butcher shop."

Section 2 then gives the places which may remain open—the places which, by inference, are "necessarily required to be kept open on Sunday." Among these places of business are pool or billiard halls, dance halls and skating rinks, photograph galleries, confectionery stores and ice cream parlors. Just why the author of the bill should see more necessity for keeping open a dance hall or a photograph gallery than a jewelry or hardware store is hard to comprehend.

American Liberty

Beyond all of this, however, it is difficult to follow the reasoning of one who seeks for a law that would fine and imprison a barber for shaving another man on any day in the week. By the bill, a dealer in cigars could carry on his business on Sunday, selling his wares, and be a good citizen, upheld by the law. The hardware merchant, on the other hand, would find himself in difficulty, subject to a fine of $500 and six months' imprisonment in case he should sell a pound of nails, a saw or an axe or hammer. The proposed law is so inconsistent that one needs but have his attention called to these things to see at once that it should not be enacted by the Legislature. In fact, all Sunday legislation is inconsistent and opposed to American liberty.

Sunday is an establishment of religion. The first amendment to the national constitution, in principle, forbids laws respecting religious establishments. There are some who would deny that Sunday laws are religious. There are some who regard the seventh day, Saturday, as the Sabbath. Because of this, they close their places of business on that day. Suppose, now, these people should demand a law compelling barber shops and hardware stores to close on Saturday. What a cry would go up! It would be apparent at once that this was religious legislation.

Senator's Views

The late Senator Heyburn, from Idaho, said: "I have a deep regard for the observance of the Sabbath, and I believe that it should be observed; but I do not believe in legislation compelling one to do it. . . . I do not approve of this class of legislation. It was such legislation as this that wrote the annals of bloodshed and oppression."

Let us see what happens when you leave the Concrete Highway and take to a gravel or a dirt road.

Conclusive tests have proved that a gallon of gasoline will carry you only two thirds as far on a gravel road as on a Concrete Road. On a dirt road a gallon of gasoline will carry you only half as far as on Concrete.

With gasoline at twenty cents a gallon, you would thus pay a gasoline tax of more than 6 cents per gallon on the gravel road and 20 cents a gallon on the dirt road.

These are figures you can't get away from. You can prove them yourself.

And remember that every time you travel on either a dirt or a gravel road you also increase wear and tear on tires and run up your general repair bills.

Why continue to pay these high taxes and get nothing in return but the discomfort and inconvenience of unpaved roads and streets?

Let your local officials know you want an adequate system of Concrete Roads and Streets. They are just as willing to build them as you are anxious to get them.

But they must have your support.

pression and intolerance in the religious history of the world, where a part of the people undertook to be sponsors for the conscience of another part." As a state, California has no Sunday law. It once had, but, seeing the injustice of such a statute, the law was repealed. The city of Pomona, under misunderstanding, and in a time of stress, enacted a Sunday law. When put up to the people, however, and given a calm and careful consideration, the blue law was decidedly rejected by a vote of the citizens. Just this has ever been the case in our state. The people, as a whole, do not want a Sunday law. The Legislature should reject this present measure as it has similar measures in the past.

DARKENED WINDOWS

"Don't be frightened. I am sure that Inspector Breittman will try to pain you as little as possible," he assured her. He thanked heaven that, as one of her husband's legal advisers, he had the right to remain and watch over her.

Inspector Breittman, meanwhile, had planted himself in front of her chair, and, with one hand thoughtfully pinching his heavy chin, he was fixing her with his dead eyes. He reminded Graham of a marksman taking careful aim before discharging a deadly missile.

"Sergeant Bassett told me that all the servants were away, that he found nobody in the house," he began. "How did that happen, Mrs. Hurst?"

"I gave them all permission to go out," she answered. "I sent them to the theatre. It—it was my birthday. I wanted them to be pleased. Both Mr. Hurst and his daughter were dining out."

Graham felt an unaccountable lump in his throat. He and his wife had evidently had forgotten and she wanted somebody to be happy on her birthday if it were only a servant.

"They all went, did they?" asked the inspector.

"All except Denis, the butler. He doesn't care for the theatre and likes the fresh air, so I sent him on an errand."

"When did the servants leave the house?"

"About half-past seven."

"How many servants are there?"

"Five besides Denis."

"Have they been with you long?"

"Except for Denis and Marie none of them more than six months. Denis has been in the family since Mr. Hurst was a boy; Marie, Miss Hurst's maid and mine, has been with us ever since I was married."

"May I ask how long ago that was?"

"Not quite two years."

Graham thought he detected a shudder running through her words.

Inspector Breittman had taken a little book from his pocket and was making rapid notes in it.

"You say your husband was dining out, Mrs. Hurst?" he went on writing as he spoke. "Can you explain how it was then that his body has been found in the library?"

"No."

"You are sure he left the house?"

"Yes, I saw him go."

"Do you know where he was dining?"

"At Colonel Sanford's in the next block. He belongs to a small card club whose members dine together every Thursday."

The inspector nodded toward Flint. "Call up Colonel Sanford, will you, Flint, and ask him what time Mr. Hurst left his house, and what excuse he gave for leaving."

Then he turned again to Evadne. "Will you tell me, please, where you were this evening?"

"The play must go on!"

The oldest unbreakable maxim of the theatre has been instilled into Glenn Hunter, youthful star of "Merton of the Movies," but it caused him considerable anguish.

James Cruze, the noted Paramount director who is making the film version of the novel and play had his company high in the hills back of Hollywood making a sequence of the story in which Hunter enacts the daredevil movie-heroic roles of which he dreams. It was what is known as a "vision" scene, but it had to be done in reality.

One scene was to show Merton, romantically garbed in cowboy chaps, boots, hat and a heavy cartridge belt, slide down a rope from a forty-foot clip to rescue the imperiled heroine.

"Do you want a double?" Cruze asked Hunter.

"Not for me," said Hunter, and swung over the edge of the cliff as the cameras started to click.

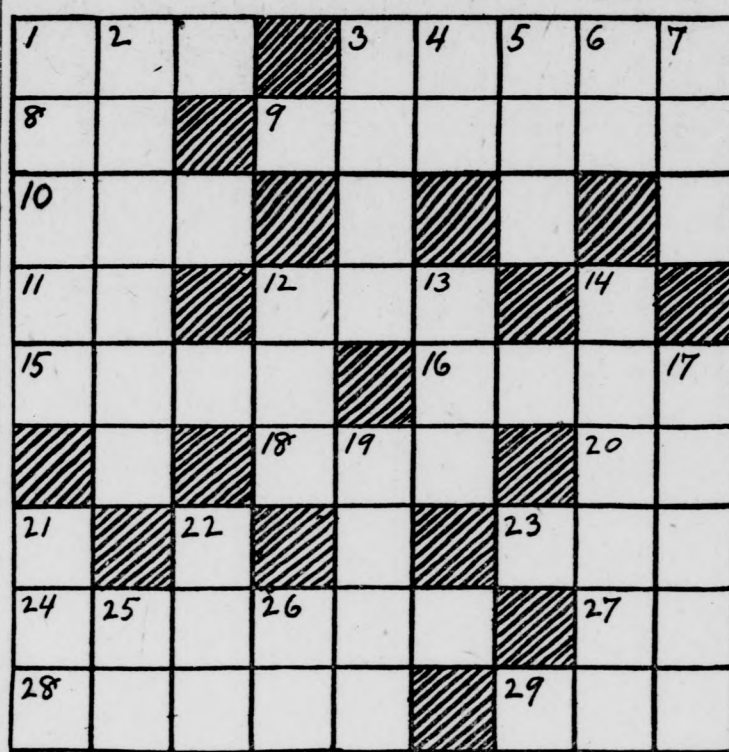

THE GLENDALE Mary Philbin in "The Rose of Paris" concludes today at the Glendale theatre. Jack Hoxie in "The Back Trail" opens tomorrow.

THE T. D. & L. Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad" continues at the T. D. & L. theatre.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend to the right as far as the white squares continue uninterrupted. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin at its number, but will extend downward as far as the white squares remain uninterrupted.

"You didn't ring!" repeated the inspector. Graham did not like his tone.

"No, I remembered just as I reached the door that my friend had told me she was going out tonight."

"Odd you didn't recollect before!" The inspector's tone was growing sharper. He was a man whose suspicions always slept with one eye open.

"It was stupid of me," she confessed. "I—I—Her voice failed."

Graham groaned inwardly.

"When did you meet Mr. Graham?"

"On the steps." He was standing here when I reached the house."

The weight of the leather chaps and the cartridge belt and gun proved too much for Hunter's strength. He took two downward jerks "hand-over-hand," and then began to slide, letting the rope slip through his fingers.

Ten feet from the ground the friction of the rope had burned the skin from the palms of his hands and he loosed his grip and fell. But the scene was finished.

UNCLE WIGGILY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE GLUE POT

Uncle Wiggily was sitting, half asleep in his easy chair one day, when he heard a knock on the door of his hollow stump bungalow.

"Come in! Come in, whoever you are!" he cried in a jolly voice, as you may have called when playing hide and go seek. But then, happening to think perhaps it might be the Fox or the Bob Cat, Uncle Wiggily quickly said: "But if you're any of the bad chaps—stay out!"

"I'm not a bad chap," answered a sad little voice. "But you might call me a SAD chap, Uncle Wiggily," and in walked Baby Bunty, holding in her paws the wooden doll Uncle Wiggily had given her the day she was visiting Mrs. Twisttail, the lady pig.

"Why are you sad, Baby Bunty?" the rabbit gentleman asked.

"Because I have broken my wooden doll," answered Bunty. "You thought she was so strong that she wouldn't break. But I dropped her on the ice, when I was skating yesterday. Before I could pick my doll up Jackie How Wow skated right over her and cut off one of her wooden legs. Oh, dear!"

Bunty was almost ready to cry as she held her doll out in one paw, and the cut-off leg in the other. But Mr. Longears quickly said:

"Don't feel sad, Bunty. I'll hop to the store, get a glue pot and, with the sticky glue in the pot, I'll mend your doll's wooden leg."

"Oh, can you do that?" asked Bunty, smiling through her tears.

"Certainly," answered Uncle Wiggily, positive like and generous.

Bidding Bunty sit in his easy chair until he returned, the rabbit gentleman hopped over the fields and through the woods until he got to the store.

There he bought a pot of the strongest glue to be had, and he was thinking how pleased Bunty would be when her wooden doll would be mended.

"Ho! Let go my paw!" howled the Bob Cat.

"Let go MY paw, you mean?" snarled the Fox. But neither could let go, though they pulled and pulled. And then, leaving them stuck together, out ran Uncle Wiggily with his glue pot, back to the bungalow where he mended the broken leg of Bunty's wooden doll.

And it wasn't until late that evening, after they had soaked their paws in warm water, that the Fox and Bob Cat could get their paws loose.

So that's how it all happened, and if the snowball doesn't cry to come in and sleep under the gas stove, where it will turn into a puddle of water in the morning, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jackie's jam."

THE FOX, not knowing about the glue, stuck out his paw. The Bob Cat grasped it. Instantly they were stuck fast together.

TEAPOT OIL PROBE BROUGHT UP AGAIN

Counsel For Sinclair, U. S. File Papers Showing 'Revelations'

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 26.—Former Senator Alton Pomerene, of the special government oil counsel, and Martin W. Littleton, counsel for the Sinclair interests, appeared in federal court here today to argue the question of further continuance of the Teapot dome trial, applied for by the government.

In voluminous affidavits filed by government counsel some startling developments are alleged, among them being that former Secretary of the Interior Fall and his son-in-law, M. E. Everhart, were recipients of $140,500 in United States bonds from the Continental Trading Co., Ltd., a Canadian concern, the First National Bank of Pueblo, Colo., and the M. D. Thatcher estate of Pueblo being used in distribution of the bonds.

This and many other new disclosures in connection with the charges of bribery against Fall can be proved, it is alleged in affidavits, if a further continuance of two months in the trial of the Teapot dome case is granted.

GANGRENE CAUSES DANGER TO EBERT

German President Fails To Rally After Operation For Appendicitis

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—President Ebert was reported in a precarious condition today as a result of his failure to rally after an operation for appendicitis.

A bulletin issued at the West End sanatorium, where the President was operated upon by Professor Bier, noted surgeon, said the patient had had a restless night and that his temperature had risen alarmingly.

The bulletin said localized gangrene of the appendix had set in, causing peritonitis, which, with a high temperature, "renders his condition serious."

The President's family was summoned to his bed shortly before noon. If President Ebert survives the day his chance to live, his physicians told International News Service this afternoon. His condition was critical, it was admitted.

Miss Yates, whose home was in Rutherford, has a sister, Mrs. Ada Morris, living in Oakland.

Young Sparks was rushed to the St. Helena hospital, near here, where physicians said he had a fair chance for recovery.

Richardson Appoints New Private Secretary

Head of Nation Guard Seeks 'Safe' Airplanes

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26.—Acting on a report rendered by Major C. C. Mosley of Los Angeles, chief of the National Guard air service, that planes recently delivered to the 115th observation squadron by the war department were "unsuited and unsafe" for cruising, Adjutant-General R. E. Mittelstaedt, commander of the California National Guard, announced today he would leave Saturday for Washington in an effort to secure at least three modern planes for the California air unit.

Dye Works Roof Goes Up 50 Feet In Blast

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 26.—A terrific explosion blew the roof of the Allen's dye and cleaning establishment fifty feet into the air and caused damage to the building estimated at $25,000 here today. Three employees were burned by the explosion which is believed to have resulted from a match igniting gas vapors as clothes were being put through a "tumbler" machine.

Frank E. Cushing, foreman, and Billy Kuehn were taken to St. Vincent's hospital suffering from burns. F. T. Richards, manager, was scorched about the hands and wrists.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Aggressive forward price movements were in progress in many important departments of the stock market today. Trading was much more active than in recent sessions; sentiment was almost uniformly bullish, not only in stocks but also in grain and cotton and all of the principal markets displayed conspicuous strength at the start.

The motor stocks took the lead at the opening, in continuance of the sharp rally which featured the close of Wednesday's session. Stocks of the principal sugar companies also made a bid for prominence in this period, under the leadership of American Sugar Refining and the Cuban companies.

Prices of further continuation of the leading movement, the companies were swept forward from 1 to 4 points in the most enthusiastic buying move of the month.

American Sugar jumped 3 points and established a new high for the year at 69 1/4; Great Western Sugar was up 2 1/4; Cuban company up 1 to 2 points in sympathy with the strong market for raw and refined sugar. American Sugar Refining common is expected to go on a dividend basis in May.

The upward movement broadened as the session advanced and extended finally to the equipment stocks, the public utility issues, the mercantile stocks, the shipping company shares and a few of the rails and oils.

A sharp advance in the stocks and bonds of the St. Paul railway in the fourth hour followed the issuance of a favorable statement by President Harry E. Byram, who returned today from an extensive tour of inspection over the lines.

Following early weakness, the preferred stock advanced nearly 3 points while the four per cent bonds of 1925 jumped five points.

The movement in the low-priced rails came to an abrupt halt when there was no disposition to sell these stocks at current prices. The oils were lagged and not disposed to follow the lead of the motors and industrials. Pan-American and Cosden were fairly active at slightly higher prices; California Petroleum gained a point; Shell Union was in good demand and the Standard Oils sold fractionally higher. Independent steel shares were fairly active and generally strong. Call money ruled at 4 1/4 per cent and the usual Thursday rumors about the possible increase in the reserve bank discount rate were conspicuous by their absence.

Stock sales: 1,754,800 shares; bonds $13,724,000.

MARKET SUMMARY

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—American Drug yesterday declared a semi-annual dividend of 50 cents. The last dividend, of 40 cents, was declared in 1920.

The situation with regard to re-discounting of bank checks by the federal reserve banks is of interest. On the nearest corresponding date of 1924 they amounted to $546,000,000. From that point they declined fairly steadily to $396,000,000 on November 26, after which they advanced to $396,000,000 on December 24. On February 11 they were $332,000,000.

The net operating income of the Southern Pacific for January was $2,028,617.56, an increase of $229,169 as compared with the same month a year ago, according to the monthly statement of earnings and expenses made public here today. The average number of miles of road operated, 12,490.67 was an increase of 102.50.

January crude output of oil in California was 18,743,288 barrels, against 18,759,126 in December.

Production of copper by smelters in the United States in January amounted to 164,298,000 pounds, against 150,566,000 in December and 149,950,000 in November. Including Canadian and Michigan smelters, output of North America was 173,012,000 pounds, against 160,206,000 in December and 159,206,000 in November.

James J. Godfrey, mining operator and president of the Mother Lode Mining Co. of Alaska and the Kay Copper Corp. of Arizona, has bought the famous Apache mine just southwest of Salome, Ariz. It was reported that $1,000,000 was involved in the sale. The rich copper-bearing ore near the surface has attracted much attention.

Oil City Derrick figures show an increase of 6557 barrels daily in crude oil production in the United States.

Steel operations were reported yesterday at Pittsburgh to be 85 per cent of capacity and at Chicago 100 per cent.

Reports from southern cotton states show the season must not be enough rain, making the planting situation discouraging as a whole.

AMERICANS MUST LEARN TO WORK

John Brown Tells Members Of Luncheon Club What Country Needs

"America is great because she has been a producing nation, a great flood of immigration from foreign lands has always formed the backbone and bulk of America's producing strength, we have shut the door on immigration, and if America is to continue to lead the world, producers of tomorrow must come from the American home where in recent years the dignity of work has been frowned upon and children have been educated with the idea of emancipating them from toil and the earning of a livelihood by the sweat of their brow."

Thus argued John Brown, evangelist, before over 100 business men and women of Glendale who heard him talk at the weekly meeting of the Greater Glendale Luncheon club at the Masonic temple at noon today.

"While 90 per cent of those attending institutions of higher education today are training for white-collar jobs, and only 10 per cent of that number can actually be assimilated into the professions, America is facing an industrial crisis that day by day is growing more acute," the evangelist declared. "Over-education at the top and under-education at the bottom is threatening to wreck us as a producing nation."

Wrong Impression
"We are building the wrong impression in the minds of the youngsters, training them in idleness until they are so old that it is almost impossible for them to gain a new and true conception of life and its problems. Every boy and girl, regardless of what they are going to be, should be trained to work in the formative stages."

"Two-thirds of the men students at the University of California should be out handling a pick and shovel, we are told by the president of that institution himself. Within ten years the entire trend of our educational system will be changed and the emphasis will be placed on the vocational instead of the professional."

Mr. Brown prophesied, concluding with a plea for the declaration that the reward of tomorrow lies in the industries and in the professions where hundreds are starving even today while brick layers are demanding great wages and are hard to get.

Lon Haddock told the Chamber of Commerce members of plans for the Glendale Fiesta to be held in September. He was introduced by William L. Twining, Secretary Howard I. PARK BOARD ASKS TREES CUT DOWN

Wants Action to Be Taken On Glendale Avenue In Near Future

The Park board recommended to the Glendale City Council this morning, in a written communication, that trees be removed from the parkways on Glendale avenue, south of Colorado boulevard, only on petition of property owners; and that each block be taken up as a separate matter and settled on its own merits, according to the wishes of the majority of the property owners concerned. The council ordered the communication filed.

The controversy over removal of trees from the parkways along Glendale avenue was started at a recent meeting of the Glendale Advancement association, when a committee was appointed to feel out the property owners on the subject of being felt by some of the trees hide the beauty of the ornamental street lights, while others declare that trees are more beautiful than light posts.

Ex-Emperor of Manchu Causes Stir In Japan

TOKIO, Feb. 26.—The visit of Hsuan Tung, former Manchu emperor of China, to Japan is causing the Japanese government not a little concern because of fear that the young monarch will become the center of numerous restoration plots which may prove embarrassing to Japan. Officials here today admitted that the ex-emperor himself was persona grata, and that there are certain grata, and that there are certain grata

Los Angeles, Calif., July 7, 1923.
Every other night for twelve years I had to take pills for constipation. My kidneys and bladder were also in very bad condition. After the first day I discontinued pills and all medicine and after forty days my complaints have all disappeared.
I am writing this letter with the sole purpose that it may assist others to find relief. I shall continue to recommend this water and anticipate a wonderful demand for your Radium Jar.

About six months ago I commenced drinking Radium Ore Lined Water and I cannot begin to tell you in this short letter all it has done for me. In that space of time I have discontinued taking cathartics. I am full of pep, have put on more weight, and it has also cleared up my skin so that lots of my friends have remarked about the change. The vitalizing effect from the drinking of this water is remarkable.

The water from the Radium Ore Lined

I purchased one of your Revigators about one year ago. It has certainly proved a wise purchase.
I have had heart trouble for several years. The trouble was aggravated by indigestion which caused gas pressure around the heart. The use of the jar has completely eliminated the indigestion and at his last examination my doctor stated my heart was nearly back to normal. I cannot recommend this jar too highly to any-

COOLIDGE SPEECH IN ROSE BOWL

Civic Bodies Invite All To Hear Inaugural Address
Over Ether Waves

PASADENA, Feb. 26.—The Chamber of Commerce and Civic Association of Pasadena has invited all citizens of surrounding communities to attend the Coolidge inaugural ceremonies by radio to be received in the Rose Bowl on March 4, at 8 a. m., through station KP, broadcasted to the municipal address system, owned by Pasadena, and installed for the occasion in the Rose Bowl.
Persons attending will hear the address, delivered in the president's own voice. This will be the first time that an address of this kind has been so broadcasted. In addition to the presidential speech, several additional features will be provided, including a concert by the United States Marine band.

The acoustic properties of the Rose Bowl are exceptionally good, and with the installation of the public address system in the stadium, the president's voice should be clearly understood in all parts of the bowl.
The stadium has a seating capacity of 65,000, which will afford ample seating facilities for all.
No admission charge will be made and there will be on charge for parking cars in the large area provided for this purpose. Everyone is invited to attend as Pasadena's guests. Visitors are urged to be in their seats promptly at 8 a. m.

The old custom of sending out the "drums and whistles" early on New Year's morning is being maintained in some parts of Scotland, "bands" of noise makers parading the streets and rousing people to tell them that the new year has arrived.

People arriving at and departing from Cherbourg last year numbered 128,241, which is 16-334 more than in the twelvemonth previous.

A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPiates

not try it? Refuse substitutes.

All Around Our Neighborhood

You knew the Horner place was sold?

AND Sylvia Trude is the one who sold it. Ever since her cousin George has moved back to the home place, he has been trying to sell the Horner farm, but he couldn't even get a nibble on it. Some of the best land in the county, and yet no one seemed interested in it. Sylvia said,
"You turn it over to me, and I'll have it sold within a week." All the family laughed at her, but George told her to go ahead. That was Saturday. The next Friday she drove up to George's place and announced that she had sold the farm to Bill Stone for sixteen thousand. "But," said George in astonishment, "I offered him the place for fifteen thousand, months ago. How in the world did you get him to pay sixteen?" Sylvia grinned and held out a placard she had hidden behind her back. It read: "Acme—Wet Paint."

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

One of the interesting features of the legislative sessions at Sacramento is the cross-fire of opinion emanating from the office of Lieutenant Governor C. C. Young.

No sooner does Governor Richardson issue a statement urging the voters of the state to curb their local representative's demand for spending the $22,000-000 surplus which looms in budget considerations, than Mr.
Young, from the room upstairs, states the governor is in error.

The lieutenant governor has analyzed appropriation bills, it would appear from his statement, and found that the greater amount is sought by administration members of the assembly and senate.

Perhaps the so-called progressive group feels that it is futile to get anything "by" the governor and therefore did not seek a great deal. Again, it may be that the administration supporters seek necessary appropriations, as they view them.

However, it is the writer's opinion that Governor Richardson will deal with his statement, and for a like when it comes to signing appropriation bills. He doesn't care a continental whom he pleases, if past performances are any criterion.

Government under a democratic form, in California and elsewhere, gives the people an opportunity to dip deep into the state treasury, when they can, and get all possible.

But there is merit in the governor's advocacy of "saving for the rainy day." Just because California has had released a small fortune, it is no reason for the solons to make extraordinary demands on the family purse, as it were.

California can wisely invest its surplus in capital improvements such as state colleges, universities, some highways, advertising, and still have money to spare for future needs. Thrift is commendable.

Senator James Hollister claims to have a bill encouraging thrift in his measure providing for credit unions' supervision. Many organized groups have loan funds at the present time to care for their workers. They keep them out of the hands of the money lenders and encourage legitimate borrowing, which, in turn, makes them save their money.

The senator says that only through regulation can these credit unions prosper and he points to Massachusetts as a state where thrift is paramount under a similar law.

While there is bound to be committee battles this year on various topics, there is every evidence that most issues will be compromised by the time they are passed to the floor of the Legislature.

Real battles over reapportionment, highway financing, revision of the state education department, taxation and one or two lesser matters will give the orators a chance to cross words, it would appear from a point of vantage on the sidelines at the capitol.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Feb. 26.—The population of this city is 11,499 and there are 2979 heads of families.
here, it is announced by F. S.
Webster, as the first informal check on the census taken last week.

That Burbank population has grown from 2913 in 1920 to 11-499 in 1925 is a matter on which the citizens congratulate themselves. It means a rapid growth of the community, Mr. Webster feels, and, as this growth still continues, it means that the city is moving along in rapid strides.

A two-story building and ninety-five feet of frontage on San Fernando boulevard, estimated to be worth $114,000, have been traded by James B. Cameron for Joaquin valley. The deal was consummated through K. K.

Simpson, J. Richmond of Los Angeles becomes the new owner of Mr. Cameron's property.

At the last meeting of the Merchants' Credit association it was decided to add Armistice day to the list of holidays to be observed by the members of the association. This makes seven holidays to be observed throughout the year—Christmas, New Year, Decoration day, Fourth of July, Labor day, Armistice day and
